Definitions

Public official address means the complete mailing address, including the zip code, at which the official wishes to receive mail from the Campaign Finance & Public Disclosure Board. An official may use either the person's business address or home address.

Occupation means a person's usual trade, profession, employment, or other similar endeavor, and includes categories for which there is no direct financial compensation, such as homemaker.

Name of Employer is applicable only to officials who have an employer. Officials who are not employed or who are self-employed should indicate that fact in the employer name space.

Address of business – Complete address, including city, state, and zip code:

- for an employed person, the name of the employer and the address from which the employee conducts the employer's business;
- for a self-employed person or a person not employed, the address from which the person conducts business or personal matters.
- for a homemaker, retiree, farmer, or person not employed, the individual's home address.

Associated Businesses

Association means a group of two or more persons, who are not all members of an immediate family, acting in concert from which the public official receives compensation or holds securities.

Compensation from Associated Business(es)

- include payment for services as a director, officer, owner, member, partner, employer, employee. Compensation includes per diem payments.
- do not include payments for services as an independent contractor, social security payments, unemployment compensation, workers' compensation, pension benefits, income from rental property, or insurance benefits.

Securities Held in Associated Business(es)

- include any stock, share, bond, warrant, option, pledge, note, debenture, lease, or commercial paper, in any corporation, partnership, mutual fund, trust, or other association. Securities include stocks in a self-directed IRA and mutual fund shares held in an IRA or deferred compensation plan.
- do not include deposits in a savings account; certificates of deposit; money market certificates; treasury bills; federal, state, municipal, or other political subdivision bonds or notes; dividends from securities; holdings in a pension or retirement plan; or stocks in an IRA which is not self-directed.

For shares in a mutual fund list the fund provider and fund name but do not itemize the stocks or the assets the mutual fund itself owns. For securities traded on national exchanges, list the name of the security not the exchange symbol.

The value of a security is its fair market value. For securities traded on national exchanges, the fair market value is the closing bid price for the security on a given date. The value of a partial interest in a security is the value of the holder's proportionate share.

Real Property

Real property includes land or buildings within the state of Minnesota, other than the official's homestead, held personally or in partnership in which the official holds:

- a fee simple interest (owns); a mortgage; a contract for deed as a buyer or seller, or an option to buy, whether direct or indirect, and which interest is valued in excess of $2,500; or
- an option to buy, for property which has a fair market value of $50,000 or more.
- include the county in which the property is located; street address with the city name, OR if there is no street address, list the section, township, and range (lot, block, and addition description can be used in place of section, township, and range); acreage is required only when the section, township, and range description is reported.
- do not include homestead property or the type of property (cabin, condominium, apartments).

Pari-mutuel horse racing

- include any investment, ownership, or interest in property connected with pari-mutuel horse racing in the United States or Canada, including a race horse. Include any direct or indirect, partial or full interest held by you or an immediate family member.

Attach additional pages if necessary to complete any of these schedules.
